

Tulsa Housing
Justice Network

A STRONGER TULSA STARTS WITH SHOWING UP.

More lawyers. More neighbors. A way forward.

A supported path into housing justice.
Free representation for residents.

Fictional workshop concept · Tulsa, Oklahoma

THE OPPORTUNITY

Help starts with someone ready to serve.

For residents

A clear path to representation for eviction and housing discrimination.

For legal partners

A manageable way to bring their skills into housing justice.

The network makes that connection possible.

THE PROPOSED MODEL

One network. A shared commitment.

01

Law firms

Licensed attorneys

Pro bono or paid commitments.

02

Law schools

A supervised pipeline

Clinics, faculty, and students.

03

Local philanthropy

Sustained capacity

Paid work and program support.

FOR LAW FIRMS

Bring your expertise. Choose your role.

Explore a commitment that fits your team's capacity and experience.

Pro bono

Paid commitments

Or both

Paid by local philanthropy. Never by residents.

FOR LAW SCHOOLS

Prepare the next generation of advocates.

Connect learning, mentorship, and service through supervised participation.

Clinics

Faculty mentors

Supervised students

RECRUITMENT IS THE BEGINNING

Give people reasons to stay.

Support the people doing the work.

Practical training

Build confidence before the first commitment.

Experienced mentors

Make room for guidance and peer connection.

Manageable commitments

Adapt participation as capacity changes.

THE RESIDENT JOURNEY · WORKING WEBSITE DEMO

From a request to a connection.

01

Request help

02

Review the request

03

Connect with representation

Live service would require intake review, conflict checks, availability, and acceptance.

Tell us what you need.

For this first walkthrough, we'll keep the request simple.

First name

Jordan

Email

Simulated matching. No requests are sent.

FOR LOCAL PHILANTHROPIC SUPPORTERS

Local generosity. Legal help at no cost.

A large, stylized red graphic of the dollar sign followed by a zero ($0), indicating zero cost.

Cost to residents

Under the proposed program

Paid attorney commitments

Training and mentorship

Intake and coordination

Volunteer service adds capacity alongside funded work.

A PROPOSED FIRST STEP

Start focused. Learn. Grow.

01

Convene

Bring founding firms, schools, and funders together.

02

Prepare

Define scope, supervision, intake, and readiness.

03

Learn

Pilot with a first cohort and improve the experience.

Track participation, connections, resident experience, and attorney retention.

AN INVITATION TO PARTNERS + FUNDERS

Bring your people. Back the work.

Law firms + law schools: explore a partnership.

Local philanthropy: help support a pilot.

A stronger Tulsa starts with showing up.
